If your PayPal page looks as follows, just click on "Pay with a credit or debit card" or "Create an Account" - it's depending on which device you are using for the payment, like mobile or laptop.

The image displays two versions of the PayPal login interface. The left version, likely for desktop, features a 'Create an Account' button highlighted with a red box and an arrow pointing to it from the text 'Having trouble logging in?'. The right version, likely for mobile, features a 'Pay with Debit or Credit Card' button highlighted with a red box and an arrow pointing to it from the text 'Having trouble logging in?'. Both versions include fields for 'Email address' and 'Password', a 'Log In' button, and a 'Stay logged in' checkbox. The left version also includes a link to 'Cancel and return to Trustifi LLC' and a language selector for 'English'. The right version includes a language selector for 'English', 'Français', 'Español', and '中文'.

The PayPal page you see might differ from the pictures shown above. It depends on the region you located in and the language of your browser. But mostly, the buttons for unregistered users are grayed out. As shown in the picture below, you need to click the "Checkout as Guest" button at this time.

I can't find similar options such as "Don't have a PayPal account?" or "Create an Account"?

If you can't find access to a credit card payment at Paypal, it might be limited by your location, or sometimes PayPal might believe that you actually own a PayPal account by checking your browser's cookies. You can try deleting your cookies to get around this.

4 : Enter your Credit Card's data

Enter your Credit Card's data. Address, email & phone number may also be requested depending on your country.
